

Funny how a £10 note looks so big when you take it to church, but so small when you take it to the shops.

Funny how big an hour serving God looks and how small 60 minutes are when spent playing golf or fishing.

Funny how long a couple of hours spent at church are, but how short they are when watching a film.

Funny how we get thrilled when a football game goes into extra time, but we complain when a sermon is longer than the regular time.

Funny how laborious it is to read a chapter in the Bible and how easy it is to read 200-300 pages of a best selling novel.

Funny how we believe what newspapers say, but question what the Bible says.

Funny how people scramble to get a front seat at any game, but scramble to get a back seat at a church service.

Funny how we cannot fit a gospel meeting into our schedule on a yearly planner, but we can schedule for other events at a moments notice.

Funny how we need 2 or 3 weeks to fit a church event into our schedule, but can adjust it for a social event at the last minute.

Funny how much difficulty some people have learning a simple gospel well enough to tell others, but how simple it is for the same people to understand and explain gossip about someone.

Funny how we can't think of anything to say when we pray and don't have any difficulty thinking of things to talk about to a friend.

Funny how we are so quick to take direction from a total stranger when we are lost, but are hesitant to take God's direction to be found.

Funny how people are so consumed with what others think about them rather than what God thinks about them.

Funny how so many churchgoers sing "Standing on the Promises" but all they do is sit on the premises.

Funny how people think that they can get more accomplished in a lifetime without God than in one hour with Him.

Funny how everyone wants to go to heaven, provided they don't have to think, or say, or do anything.

Funny, *isn't it?

A single track mind is all right
if it is on the right track.

A little more flowers
on the pathway of life;
And fewer on graves
at the end of the strife.
